3. Select the website you prefer to submit your application to from the sub-menu.
4. Log in with your existing user credentials or create a new log in.
5. Follow the instructions for the site to submit an application.

Searching

Your primary activity when you are logged in to the Idox Public Access site will be to search for planning records according to a variety of criteria. There are a variety of search methods to allow you to find the information you are looking for:

- Simple - search quickly for applications, appeals or enforcements according to some entered text
- Advanced - search according to a wide combination of relevant factors
- Weekly/monthly list - search for applications whose status is validated or decided within a particular time period
- Property - search for a particular property to which applications may apply
- Map - search using an interactive map tool.

Simple Search

A simple search allows you to search quickly for an application, appeal or enforcement by entering some text that will help identify it.

1. From the Search drop down list choose the Planning module, then select Simple Search.

The screenshot shows the 'Planning – Simple Search' interface. At the top, it says 'Search for Planning Applications, Appeals and Enforcements by keyword, application reference or by a single line of an address.' Below this are five tabs: 'Simple' (selected), 'Advanced', 'Weekly/Monthly Lists', 'Property', and 'Map'. Under the 'Simple' tab, there are three sub-tabs: 'Applications' (selected), 'Appeals', and 'Enforcements'. There are two dropdown menus: 'Local Authority:' with 'All' selected, and 'Status:' with 'All' selected. Below these is a text input field with a placeholder 'Enter a keyword, reference number or single line of an address.' and a blue 'Search' button.

2. In the Planning module you can search for:
 - Planning Applications
 - Planning Appeals
 - Enforcement.

Click to select the type of record that you want to locate.

3. If your Local Authority belongs to a Shared Service group, you have the option to filter search results by Local Authority.
4. If you choose to search for Applications, you can also select the status of the records you are looking for:
 - Current applications

Searching

Simple Search

- Decided applications
- All applications.

Choose the appropriate option from the Status drop down list.

 - reference number (for example, "2008/0125/DET")
 - post code (for example, "G1 3PL")
 - part of an address (for example, "Drymen", "Scott Street").

If Wildcard Searching is enabled in your system your search will produce a wider range of results. Wildcard Searching assumes a wildcard symbol at the beginning and end of the search string and in between each term. For example, entering "10 High Street" (equivalent to "%10%High%Street%") may find results of "10-12 High Street" or "The Swan, 10 High Street".

6. Click on the Search button to display the results of your search (see "Search Results" on page 30).

Advanced Search

An advanced search allows you to build a complex combination of specific criteria on which to search for information.

1. From the Search drop down list choose the Planning module, then select Advanced Search.

Map Search

Map search allows you to identify properties that are the subjects of applications, appeals or enforcements using an interactive map. The map allows you to zoom in and examine each property to locate the records of interest to you. You can filter the display by adding or removing record types and by changing the time period.

Notes

- This mapping functionality is not available for Acolaid, however, an external web link may be enabled.
- The mapping functionality may not be available on mobile devices.
- The instructions in this section are based on the most up-to-date version of the map. However, some authorities are still using an older version of the map, so its appearance will be different, although much of the same functionality is available.

Alternatively, if you are interested in applications relevant to a specific geographical area, such as close to your home, you can search for records limited either to the currently displayed map extent or to a specified radius from the map's centre. These searches can be saved to your Saved Searches.

Note Idox Public Access does not support watermarking on maps and continues to be compliant with Ordnance Survey standards.

1. From the Search menu, choose the Planning module, then select Map Search.

2. To zoom in on a specific location, drag the map to centre on the location and click on the + button. To zoom out, click on the - button.

Alternatively, you can zoom in and out by scrolling the mouse wheel.

3. To pan the image around, click on the map and, keeping the mouse button depressed, drag in the direction you want to pan.

4. To refine the display, click on the Layer List Filter.

5. To change the time period drag the slider to the desired time frame.

Most records can be displayed in two ways:

- Records which only affect the property which is the subject of the application are shown as triangular points.
- Records which affect others (for example, neighbours or the public) are displayed as a polygon which illustrates the boundary of the property affected by the application.

Module	Record type	Displayed As
Planning	Applications - properties for which planning applications have been submitted.
	Appeals - properties which are the subject of planning appeals.
	Enforcements - properties which are the subject of planning enforcements.

Module	Record type	Displayed As
All	Properties - all valid properties in your local area. You can click on any of these to see if any current record (for example, application, or licence) exists at that address.

- Once you have identified a record of interest, click on the triangle point or polygon to display a summary of the information about the record.

If there is more than one record associated with the property, you can click on the navigation arrows to page through the record summaries.

- When the black Properties markers are displayed, you can click on any of these to view the property summary.

- To view full details of a property or record of interest, with the summary information displayed, click one of the links at the bottom of the summary window to either view the details in the current tab or a new tab in the browser.

Map measurement

You can take rough measurements of distances and areas on the map as well as mark down the latitude and longitude of a point on the map.

Note The measurement tool is for indicative purposes only. It is to be used only to give an idea to users of the distance between objects or area of an object. It does not define legal boundaries nor can it be used for dispute purposes.

- Zoom and pan the map to display the geographical area of interest.
- Click on the Measurement icon.

3. To measure an area, click on the Area icon.

4. Select your units from the drop down menu.
5. Click on the map where you wish to start your measurement.

Saving map searches

You can add a map search to your Saved Searches list in one of two formats:

- Rectangular search - saves all of the records of the selected record type that apply to the area currently shown on the map
- Circular search - saves all of the records of the selected record type that apply to the area within a specified radius of the map centre.

Note Map searches can only be saved for one record type (for example, applications) at a time. If you want to save a search for another record type in the same geographical area, you must save it as a different search.

Rectangular search

The rectangular search allows you to display occurrences of a record type over the geographical area currently displayed on the map. By re-running the search, you can monitor new occurrences. For example, if you have zoomed the map to display your town centre and filtered the legend to display planning applications in the last month you can save an extents search that allows you to monitor new applications arising in the town centre on a monthly basis.

1. Zoom and pan the map to display the geographical area of interest.
2. Click on the Layer list filter icon.

3. Select the required time period.
4. Filter the legend to display one record type.
5. Click on the Save Searches icon.

- Click on Save associated with the Save a rectangle search defined by the current map extent.

- On the Saved Search Options page you may change the default search title if you wish.

- If you want to be notified by email of any new records matching your search criteria, select Yes. These notifications are displayed in your Notified Applications tab (see "Notified applications" on page 11).
- Click Save to save the search to your list of Saved Searches (see "Saved searches" on page 9).

Circular search

The circular map search allows you to display occurrences of a record type over the geographical area currently displayed within a specified proximity of the centre of the map. By re-running the search, you can monitor new occurrences. For example, if you have zoomed the map to display your home and filtered the legend to display planning applications submitted in the last year you can save a proximity search that allows you to monitor new planning applications arising within a specified distance of your home on a yearly basis.

1. Zoom and pan the map to display the geographical area of interest.
2. Click on the Layer list filter icon.

3. Select the required time period.
4. Filter the legend to display one record type.
5. Click on the Save Searches icon.

6. Select the radial distance from the centre in which to search for records.

Check the Show circle on map box to display the proximity as a circle around the centre. You can pan the map to make adjustments if required.

7. Click on Save under drop down menu.

8. In the Saved Search Options box you may change the default search title if you wish.
